What is 4-H? This is a great question that I get asked a lot. In fact, when interviewing for this position, I was asked to come up with a 4-H elevator speech—in other words, what does 4-H mean to me in one minute or less. So, I'll ask you the same thing. What is 4-H? Think about that for a minute.....

OK, now I'll give you some help. The mission of 4-H is "to empower youth to reach their full potential, working and learning in partnership with caring adults." (4-H.org)

4-H is a positive youth development organization. A vast community of more than 6 million youth and adults working together for positive change, 4-H enables America's youth to emerge as leaders through hands-on learning, research-based youth programs and adult mentorships, in order to give back to their local communities. (4-H.org)

Wow! That's quite a mouthful. How does all this happen? 4-H is different than many other youth organizations. 4-H is not a class. These claims that 4-H makes do not happen in a hour time frame. All this happens over time, and with intentional planning by the 4-H volunteers.

4-H leaders are trained in the 8 Essential Elements of Positive Youth Development. These are 1) A positive relationship with a caring adult, 2) A safe environment, 3) Opportunity for mastery, 4) Opportunity to value and practice service to others, 5) Opportunity for self-determination, 6) An inclusive environment, 7) Opportunity to see oneself as an active participant in the future, and 8) Engagement in learning.

So if a 4-H Volunteer or a 4-H Educator asks a child to be a youth officer, or proposes doing a community service project, or giving a presentation, or maybe attending a certain number of meetings—it is with the overall mission of creating an atmosphere of positive youth development and working toward these 8 Essential Elements.

I hope this has given you a little insight into the whys and whats of 4-H. This probably took over a minute to say, but my elevator speech now is, "4-H teaches youth life skills!"

On another note, I would like to announce that my husband and I are expecting twins this summer. We are so excited and feel very blessed. Thank you for all your support.

Sincerely, Kelli Kilpatrick

Character Counts

RESPECT

"No one can make you feel inferior without your consent"

~ Eleanor Roosevelt ~

RESPECT—Making Ethical Decisions

People are not things, and everyone has a right to be treated with dignity. We certainly have no ethical duty to hold all people in high esteem, but we should treat everyone with respect, regardless of who they are and what they have done. We have a responsibility to be the best we can be in all situations, even when dealing with unpleasant people.

THINK THE GOLDEN RULE!

The Golden Rule—do unto others as you would have them do unto you - nicely illustrates the Pillar of respect. Respect prohibits violence, humiliation, manipulation and exploitation. It reflects notions such as civility, courtesy, decency, dignity, autonomy, tolerance and acceptance.

Lesson in Respect

It is a widely held belief that in order to get respect, you must first give it. What does this mean to you? How can being civil to everyone be a step forward in earning more respect from your peers?

4-H Roll Call Suggestions

- ◆ Tell what it means to be considerate
- ◆ "I show respect for people when I . . ."
- ◆ "My parents know I respect them when . . ."
- ◆ Tell how you can show respect in your 4-H Club.

Respect Activity

Respectful Greetings

Before the 20th century, people commonly addressed one another in a much more formal and respectful manner, one still reflected in the protocols for the US Congress and British Parliament. Even calling people by their first name is a relatively recent development. It used to be considered improper to omit "Miss" or "Mister" when referring to anyone except close friends and relations. These days it is not unusual for students to get each other's attention by calling them "fool" or worse.

Have members practice respectful greetings for a specified period of time. (We recommend one week minimum.) They must refer to each other using "Miss" or "Mister" and the person's last name. The leaders should also participate in this exercise. This might seem strange and even comical at first, but in a few days everyone should grow accustomed to it. At the end of the week, have members write a paragraph describing how the courtesy improved the atmosphere of the club and affected their attitude or behavior, if at all.

Teton County 4-H Leaders Attend Wyoming State Leaders' Conference

On the weekend of February 4-6th, Amy Wilson and Josh Dieckmann attended the Wyoming State Leaders' Conference held in Casper, WY. During this training, Amy and Josh, along with 4-H leaders from across the state, participated in the Master Volunteer certification. This learning track included topics such as:

- True Colors Personality Assessment
- 8 Essential Elements of Positive Youth Development
- CHARACTER COUNTS!
- Peer teaching
- Teambuilding

Participants in the Master Volunteer course are asked to bring back what they have learned to their county 4-H program in an effort to spread the message of Positive Youth Development and to assist the 4-H Educator in strengthening the overall mission of 4-H.

Amy and Josh will be sharing some of what they learned at the March 8th 4-H Council Meeting.

Congratulations on becoming Master 4-H Volunteers!

Alta 4-H Community Club Is Growing Strong!

Dana Wilson facilitates teambuilding activities, and assures that all youth feel welcomed into the new community 4-H Club.

4-H Leaders Council Meeting
March 8, 2011 at 5:30 p.m.
4-H Office

All 4-H Leaders and Jr. Leaders are members of the 4-H Council. Meetings are on the 2nd Tuesday of every other month.

The purpose of the 4-H Council is to ensure that the essential elements of positive youth development are incorporated into all aspects of the county 4-H program.

March Agenda

- Bylaws and Constitution
- Planning for upcoming events
- Essential Elements of Positive Youth Development
- Report from State Leaders Conference
 - 4-H Projects

4-H Club Finances

The Teton County 4-H Program is making headway with the financial recommendations of the Wyoming State 4-H Program. This effort is focused on teaching youth how money flows into and out of an organization. The 4-H club is a safe environment to learn how to live within a budget, practice managing money and to learn from successes and mistakes.

It is crucial that a youth treasurer be utilized in your 4-H club (you as the 4-H Leaders should not be the club treasurer, but you or another adult can be an advisor to that officer). It is also essential that all monies spent be voted on by the 4-H club and recorded in club minutes. If you have not done so, please read the handout, "Understanding 4-H Club Finances" and the Wyoming 4-H Club Treasurer's Handbook, as a higher standard of accountability and integrity is expected when handling public finances.

Most clubs have opened their own checking and savings accounts with funds earned through various fundraisers. The final deadline to do this is March 15th. If a club has funds within the 4-H Council treasury and does not withdraw them to open their own account, these funds will be absorbed into the general fund for the 4-H Program.

4-H Club financial paperwork will be filed in your club's folder if your statements are being sent to the 4-H Office. Please have your club treasurer pick up this paperwork on a regular basis.

Finally, it is not a best practice to have a debit card for your 4-H Club checking account. PLEASE DO NOT USE THESE! Refer to the letter that was sent to you in the mail regarding how finances should be dealt with regarding reimbursements and online purchases.

4-H Leader News

4-H Leader Spotlight : Pam Romsa

Pam Romsa is the co-leader of the Wilson Hoofbeats 4-H Horse Club. She is also the 4-H Council President. Pam has dedicated her time and energy to the 4-H program for the past 15 years.

Pam is committed to making learning about horses fun for youth. She is continuously searching for new ways to make club meetings exciting. Her club has willingly implemented all of the recent changes to the horse program as well as the 4-H Program. Pam utilizes club officers and lets youth practice leadership roles. She also utilizes older 4-H members in teaching and mentoring the younger youth in her club.

Pam is a contributing member of the 4-H Horse committee. Her club has helped to put on the Pre-Fair Horse show for the past two years and she, her co-leaders and club parents are people that can be counted on to make sure that the Fair 4-H Horse show is a great success.

Pam has been a tremendous asset to the 4-H Program as a whole. In her role as the 4-H Council President, she keeps in mind the true meaning of what 4-H is all about.

She has helped to put on Record Book workshops, she embraces the community aspects of 4-H and is advocate of continuous learning to other 4-H leaders.

Youth working with Pam say that she is kind and determined to help them be successful. She is a good teacher and makes meetings fun.

Thanks Pam for all you do for 4-H!

Livestock

Please make note of the change to the livestock fitting rule in Teton County 4-H:

A 4-H member is expected to fit and groom his/her own animal at the Teton county fair. However in the interest of safety a member may be assisted by another currently enrolled bona fide Teton county 4-H member or project leader.

A 4-H member is expected to care for their own animal; however, in the interest of safety in caring for animals members may receive limited age and skill appropriate assistance.

Important Animal Project Deadlines

Please make note of these deadlines now. Those not turning in proper paperwork will not be able to exhibit their animals at the Teton County Fair. Paperwork should be turned in to the 4-H Office by 5 p.m. on or BEFORE the deadline date.

Food & Nutrition

Check out this new Contest
April 16, 2011
Afton, WY
4-H Cook-Off!

Contestants must compete in the appropriate age divisions (junior, Intermediate, Senior). Eligibility will be determined using 4-H plus.

Only team entries will be allowed. Teams will consist of 3-5 members. Unlimited teams will be taken in each division. Awards will be given to the top three teams in each division.

OBJECTIVES:

To provide a hands-on competition that incorporates all areas of the foods & nutrition project.

Help youth to learn the techniques of logical and accurate decision making as well as teach them to recognize the reasons for their decisions.

To recognize youth for their knowledge of foods and nutrition in regards to the current food industry.

RULES:

One hour will be given to each group, a timer will be set and when time is up every person must stop.

This makes it vital to come prepared and have a game plan before coming to the competition.

You will be issued a list of foods, at the time your registration is confirmed, to use as main ingredients.

The contest will try to promote:

commodity foods that can be found commonly in food banks to prove that simple, inexpensive ingredients can make excellent foods.

Unusual foods that youth will find challenging to learn about

A knowledge of food nutrition, food pyramids, and food groups

You must provide your own food to cook at the competition.

Every team needs to make enough for the audience to taste test a very small amount, so take that into consideration when preparing your foods list.

The kitchen and cookware items will be supplied for you. Note that these are common items, if you need anything atypical you must bring it yourself.

The recipe your team chooses needs to be turned in one week prior to the completion. All recipes in the competition will be put in a cook book.

A panel of judges will taste test the food after the hour is up. They will be looking for flavor, creativity, and best plate presentation.

Awards will also be given to the recipe with the:

- Fewest number of ingredients
- The least expensive
- Creativity and uniqueness
- Overall best in each age division

A form of expenses has to be filled out and turned in prior to the competition. This form will be used to help us figure out which team has the cheapest recipe. This does not need to be exact, if you are unsure how much an item cost because it was purchased previously just give your best estimate.

Teams are encouraged to work together

Audiences may watch the competition, but not interact with the teams

JUDGING:

Judging will be based on team work, method of preparation, plate presentation, creativity, flavor, ability to sell on a professional level, and use of ingredient list.

Register at the 4-H Office by March 23rd to be eligible for this contest!
